

Client Version

1. Aura, when accessed via our website, is free. For this reason, we have limited the visibility of agencies through paginated scrolling. If a client wants full access, they must pay and we will provide them with login credentials — self-registration is not allowed.

The client subscription model is based on a defined number of “Agency Search & Selection” credits. There are no upgrade plans or tiered pricing structures. We operate on a token-based model: the client purchases, for example, 3 “Agency Search & Selection” packages, each including 6 or 12 agencies. Once these are exhausted, a banner should appear blocking further usage, with a message such as: “Contact VA Consulting to extend your programme.”

It is important that, while the client is within the platform and has paid, they face no limitations on the “Agency Search & Selection” credits they have purchased.

2. We create the user account for the client. On first login, the client sets their password, which must comply with all standard security requirements. Once inside, they must complete additional fields within “Account Information”: Region / Country / Role / Mobile. The “Company” field is populated by us.

The Super Admin must have the ability to add new fields and modify existing ones as needed.

Admin vs Super Admin

At present, the interfaces appear identical.

ADMIN

1. The current functionality seems appropriate: approve or reject vendor registration requests (Agency / Production Company).
2. The “Company” creation/registration feature is missing.
3. The ability to register a “Client” within a company is missing.
4. There is no section listing all companies.

A key point: the company structure cannot be universal. We may be engaged by Coca-Cola HQ, or by Coca-Cola Italy only, or Coca-Cola France. Therefore, similarly to agencies in the RFI (there is no “client RFI”), the structure must follow a hierarchy:

Holding Company → Regional Hub → Region → Local Company → Country → Client

If Coca-Cola Italy pays for access, Coca-Cola France should not have usage rights. Coca-Cola Italy may define how many users are granted access, and we must be able to create multiple user accounts per client.

Even if the Holding or Regional Hub pays centrally, accounts must still be tied to region and country. Ultimately, we need a clean and structured corporate hierarchy.

Admin Section – Agencies / Production Companies

- The list view and taxonomy are fine.
- Missing: “Latest Update” field.
- Missing: “Send Follow-up” button.

As agreed, agencies receive a notification every 6 months to update their profile. However, the admin must be able to track whether this has been completed, and follow up if necessary.

There is also a visual overlap bug when the admin attempts to create a new agency or production company.

The screenshot displays the 'ADMIN PANEL' for 'VA Consulting'. The main heading is 'Add a new agency profile to the directory'. The left sidebar contains navigation links: Dashboard, Agencies (selected), Production Companies, Users, and Disclaimer Editor. The top navigation bar includes tabs for General (selected), Contacts, Turnover, Knowledge, Governance, People, Awards, and Add-Ons. A 'Pending Approvals' section shows 4 items. The main content area is titled 'General Information' with the subtitle 'Legal identity, Organisation & Structure'. It is divided into two sections: 'Legal identity' and 'Organisation & Structure'. The 'Legal identity' section includes fields for Registered Business Name (e.g., Acme Agency Ltd.), D-U-N-S® Number (9-digit number), VAT Registration Number (e.g., GB123456789), Legal Form (e.g., Ltd, GmbH, S.A.S.), Company Registration Number (Companies House number), and Year Established (e.g., 2005). The 'Organisation & Structure' section includes fields for # of Employees (Select range), Company Level (Select level), Parent Company Name (If part of a group), Category (Select category), Agency Currency (Euro - EUR), and Trade Organizations (e.g., IPA, ISBA, EACA). At the bottom right, there are 'Skip for now' and 'Continue' buttons. The bottom left shows the user profile 'VA Admin'.

SUPER ADMIN

The same gaps identified for the Admin role also apply here. In addition:

1. Missing the ability to modify or extend the RFI.
2. Missing the ability to add new categories (currently limited to Agency and Production Company — how do we introduce a third?).
3. Missing the ability to modify icons for Agency and Production Company.
4. Missing the ability to create internal VA users and assign roles and permissions.
